

Project Module in Microeconomic Theory:

Contest Theory and its Applications

List of Topics

- 1) Competition among Contests. Ghazala Azmat and Marc Möller (RAND Journal of Economics, Vol.40, No. 4, 2009)
- 2) The Generalized War of Attrition. Jeremy Bulow and Paul Klemperer (American Economic Review, Vol. 89, No.1, 1999)
- 3) The optimal multi-stage contests. Qiang Fu and Jingfeng Lu (Economic Theory, Vol.51, No.2, 2012)
- 4) Competition over More than One Prize. Derek Clark and Christian Riis (American Economic Review, Vol. 88, No.1, 1998)
- 5) Contests for Status. Benny Moldovanu, Aner Sela and Xianwen Shi (Journal of Political Economy, Vol. 115, No. 2, 2007)
- 6) The Colonel Blotto Game. Brian Roberson (Economic Theory, Vol.29, No.1, 2006)
- 7) Team Contests with Multiple Pairwise Battles. Qiang Fu, Jingfeng Lu and Yue Pan (American Economic Review, Vol. 105, No. 7, 2015)
- 8) Digging for Golden Carrots. Curtis Taylor (American Economic Review, Vol. 85, No.4, 1995)
- 9) A Comparison of Tournaments and Contracts. Jerry Green and Nancy Stokey (Journal of Political Economy, Vol. 91, No.3, 1983)
- 10) Caller Number Five and related timing games. Andreas Park and Lones Smith (Theoretical Economics, Vol 3, 2008)
- 11) Tournaments with Midterm reviews. Alexander Gershkov and Motty Perry (Games and Economic Behavior, Vol. 66, 2009)
- 12) Multi-battle contests. Kai Konrad and Dan Kovenock (Games and Economic Behavior, Vol. 66, 2009)
- 13) Racing with Uncertainty. Christopher Harris and John Vickers (Review of Economics Studies, Vol.54, No.1, 1987)
- 14) Financing Public Goods by Means of Lotteries. John Morgan (Review of Economics Studies, Vol.67, 2000)